DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-6, 10-13, and 23-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Apostol, Jr. et al (6,247,084).

Regarding Claim 1, Apostol, Jr. et al a method for detecting a monitor, the method comprising: monitoring one pin of a connector coupled to a flat panel display (Figs. 1-5; Col.6, line 1-65; Col.30, line 47- Col.31, line 65); asserting an output signal to indicate the one pin is in a first state; and receiving the output signal at a display engine. (Figs. 1-5; Col.5, line 45- Col.7, line 40; Col.30, line 47- Col.31, line 65).

Regarding Claims 2-4, 24, 26, Apostol, Jr. et al a method wherein the output signal is an interrupt signal, the interrupt signal is a system interrupt for a general purpose computer, and the output signal is stored in a register. (Col.6, line 1-65; Col.19, line 39- Col.21, line 25).

Regarding Claims 5-6, 27, Apostol, Jr. et al the method further comprising determining if a voltage level of the one pin is in a stable state before asserting the output signal; and determining includes the voltage level of the one pin being stable when the input is stable for a predetermined amount of time. (Col.6, line 1-65; Col.19, line 39- Col.21, line 25).

Regarding Claims 10-13, Apostol, Jr. et al the method further comprising the step of: operating in a normal mode of operation prior to monitoring, wherein the one pin is in a second state, and the first state is indicative of a flat panel display being coupled and decoupled to the connector, and driving the flat panel display from the flat panel display engine in response to asserting the first output signal. (Figs. 1-5; Col.5, line 45- Col.7, line 40; Col.30, line 47- Col.31, line 65).

Regarding Claim 23, Apostol, Jr. et al a system for providing a display image to a flat panel monitor, the system comprising: a processing module; and memory operably coupled to the processing module, wherein in the memory stores operational instructions that cause the processing module to monitor one pin of a connector coupled to a flat panel display (Figs. 1-5; Col.5, line 45- Col.7, line 40; Col.30, line 47- Col.31, line 65); assert a output signal to indicate the one pin is in a first state; and receive the output signal at a display engine. (Figs. 1-5; Col.5, line 45- Col.7, line 40; Col.30, line 47- Col.31, line 65).

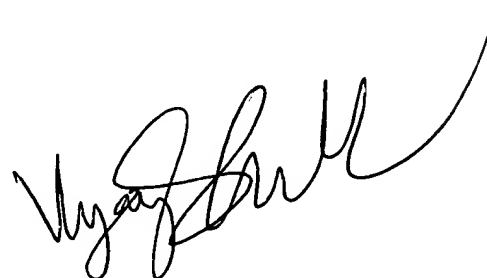

Regarding Claim 25, Apostol, Jr. et al the method for detecting a monitor, the method comprising: providing display information to a first display, determining when an external flat panel display becomes available, by monitoring at least one pin of a connector coupled to a flat panel display (Figs. 1-5; Col.5, line 45- Col.7, line 40; Col.30, line 47- Col.31, line 65); asserting an output signal to indicate the pin is in a first state; providing an interrupt signal in response to the asserted output signal (Col.6, line 1-65; Col.19, line 39- Col.21, line 25), and providing display information to the external flat panel display in response to the interrupt signal. (Figs. 1-5; Col.5, line 45- Col.7, line 40; Col.30, line 47- Col.31, line 65).

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6, 10-13, 23-27 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
